

A Global Partnership

The Materials Research Society encourages the active involvement of organizations through the Corporate Participation Program. MRS Corporate Affiliates are a vital link in the Society's promotion of close interaction among scientists and engineering professionals in the materials research community.

If your organization is interested in influencing the growth and direction of interdisciplinary, basic research on advanced materials, then we urge you to join the MRS Corporate Participation Program and form a global partnership for a new era! Mail or fax this application today.
